

Mayor Coleman kicks off National Homeownership Month In a Northeast Side Neighborhood

(Columbus) Mayor Michael B. Coleman continues to focus attention and resources on helping families become homeowners, lifting up older neighborhoods, and this week he will join officials from the Department of Development, U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), Greater Columbus Habitat for Humanity and the Columbus Board of REALTORS® to welcome a family to their new home in American Addition. The City and partners will kick off National Homeownership Month in this Northeast Side, where several new, affordable homes are being built.
